

Angela Fadil

*recipient of the
Dr. Angelo and Alberta Anaclerio Scholarship*

“Thank you for supporting my education and offering me the best medical school experience. I'm so grateful to my UF family and proud to be a Gator!”

My name is Angela Fadil, and I'm a third-year medical student from Tampa, FL. I earned my undergraduate degree from University of South Florida, where I studied Integrative Animal Biology. I chose to attend the University of Florida College of Medicine because the administrators and faculty at UF support students unlike any other program I considered. Prior to medical school, I worked with several physicians who graduated from UFCOM, all of whom spoke highly about the quality of their education and overall medical school experience. It's safe to say, they all gave great advice when they told me to choose UF! I am hoping to pursue a specialty in Otolaryngology.

Receiving this scholarship is important to me because I'm free to explore any and all of my passions in medicine without financial stress.
